Three Victims Of Plant Explosion Die Of Burns— Three Struck By Cars

Violent death was a week end guest in San Mateo County. Three pedestrians were struck down by automobiles and three San Bruno and South San Francisco boys, who were burned in the recent E. I. du Pont de Nemours plant fire, succumbed in a South San Francisco hospital.

The nitro-cellulose explosion in South San Francisco counted the third victim with the death of Audley Baker, 20, of San Bruno, early Monday morning of this week. Webb Raymond, 23, of South San Francisco, died the evening before, and James McFarlin, 20, San Bruno, expired Saturday night of last week.

The victims of automobile accidents were:

COUNTY LEADERS PLEDGE SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

District Chairmen Are Departing For Annual Roll Call Campaign In Vicinity

Prominent northern San Mateo County leaders joined the ranks of citizens today who have pledged their support to the annual roll call of the Red Cross which starts Armistice Day, November 11, and closes Thanksgiving Day.

Among the northern San Mateo County leaders who will aid the Red Cross are Mrs. Horace Fellows, who is roll call chairman in Daly City; Mrs. M. P. Brown, chairman in Colma; and E. A. Weisenberger, chairman in Lawndale.

County Chairman Helen Chesebrough said of the three leaders in announcing their names in the roll call:

"I cannot express my happiness with mere words in knowing that the Red Cross roll call in northern San Mateo county will be handled by citizens as representative as Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Fellows and Mr. Weisenberger.

"Northern San Mateo County has always given willingly to the cause of the Red Cross. I know that this year as was the case in other years, Daly City, Colma, Lawndale and its

Thousands Witness Impressive Ceremonies At Conclusion Of Daly City Parade

While thousands acclaimed, Branch No. 49 was officially confirmed in the Italian Catholic Federation, following the big parade, last Sunday afternoon.

The event was the high water mark of the final day of the Inaugural Festival, which was heralded at high noon with the flourish of trumpets and the throb of drums as the greatest and most colorful procession in the history of Daly City marched south on Mission street to the athletic field of Jefferson Union High School.

The grandeur of the moment was expressed in the tenseness of the spectators as they beheld the president of the state-wide organization, Attilio Raeta, present the charter to Giacomo Firpo, chairman of the new branch.

Reynald Bianchi, assistant city attorney of San Francisco and speaker of the day, declared that the purpose of the Federation was to make the Italian heritage a vital part of American life—the seeds sown in a glamorous past to become, with guarded care, the fruits of a glamorous present.

Among three things, Bianchi said: "Christopher Colombo, an Italian, convinced the Spanish Queen that there was a land beyond the sea. He discovered America. So, all things being equal, an Italian was the first American. And though Amerigo Vesputi's 'discovery' was rather belated, an Italian gave this country his name, Amerigo, or 'America.'"

PEDESTRIAN HIT AND KILLED ON MISSION STREET

Colma Rancher Expires Soon After Being Struck By Passing Automobile

A Colma rancher, Andronico Agresti, 48, was fatally injured Saturday evening of last week, about 8:45 o'clock, when he was struck down at Mission and Bismark streets by an automobile driven by John Wilson, 19, of Willets street, Daly City.

Agresti, died thirty minutes later in the Villa Sanitarium. In a desperate effort to save him the injured man was placed in the iron lung.

About a year ago the unfortunate man was struck by another automobile near the spot where he sustained the injuries that resulted in his death.

Wilson was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter and was later released on bail.

Funeral services were conducted for the deceased from the mortuary chapel of W. C. Lasswell & Co., Tuesday afternoon of this week, at 2 o'clock. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

The surviving relatives are four brothers—Pietro, Carlo, Cesare and Angelo Agresti; and three sisters—Mrs. Rose Martinelli, Mrs. Santini Lippi and Mrs. Perfato Lami.

Phantom Gunman Takes Pot Shot Again At Driver

San Mateo County's "phantom gunman" struck again last week end.

Thus far his aim has not been fatal. Police are fearing, however, his shooting may improve with practice—having redoubled their efforts to run him down before a life is taken.

Latest driver to be endangered is F. M. Almstead, Belmont.

Almstead, driving south on the Bayshore highway, had just passed the intersection of the thoroughfare with the Millbrae road when an unknown sniper fired at him.

The bullet, from a .22 caliber gun, struck the windshield of his car, he told San Mateo police.

GOLF WIZARD ACQUITTED; OFFERED FILM CONTRACT

Acquitted on a seven year old charge of robbery, John Montague, Hollywood's wizard golfer and "mystery man," recently started plans for a new and richer chapter in an already amazing life. Shortly after an Elizabeth-town, N. Y., jury freed the golfing pal of Hollywood's stars, officials of Paramount's studios announced that "Mysterious Monty" had signed a contract amounting to $1,000,000 in seven years. He

IMPROVEMENT OF HOUSES IN D. C.

Many houses in Daly City are receiving new coats of paint. Many are having their "faces lifted," as it were.

There are two reasons for this:

First—Weather prophets assert that a long, cold winter is at hand—and homes must be made snug against the wind and rain.

Second—The winter skies are notorious for their murkiness—and homes must be proof against any manner of dullness.

In any event, the town is the gainer when its residences are decorated and reconditioned.

MAYOR BACKING QUEEN CROWNED AN ACTIVE DRIVE AT GREAT BALL FOR NAVY BASE BY LORD MAYOR

Rossi Splits With C. Of C. In Favoring Construction Of Depot On West Side Of Bay

The mayor of San Francisco and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce are divided on the issue of establishing the $15,000,000 navy supply base on the west side of the bay.

Angelo J. Rossi declared this week he favored bringing the depot to San Francisco or San Mateo shores. The San Francisco chamber has endorsed Oakland as the site and its president, J. M. Howell, admitted that the San Francisco chamber was out to get the navy depot for Oakland and nowhere else.

Rossi stated: "I'll back everything that Congressmen McGrath and Welch do to get the base over here. I want to straighten this thing out. I supported Alameda for the air base but I do not support Oakland for the supply base. There can be no question about that."

Congressman John J. McGrath said that he was satisfied that the entire San Francisco city administration is behind the project.

Grand Jury Will Convene Tonight

The final chapter of reports of the San Mateo County Grand Jury, which has been in session since December, will be presented by a subcommittee tonight.

If the jury adopts the report, the document will be filed with Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt. The judge then probably will discharge the jury.

According to the secretary, the Hood and Strong audit will be incorporated in the final report. He said no county officials had been summoned to appear at the session.

More Than 400 Subjects See Margaret Della Selva Proclaimed Sovereign

More than 400 loyal subjects from near and far witnessed the coronation of the queen of the I. C. F. Branch No. 49 Festival at a dance, special to the occasion, in the Theater Social Hall, Saturday evening of last week.

As notables paid homage and people cheered, Lord Mayor Paul G. Selmi placed the glittering crown on the regal head of Her Majesty, Margaret Della Selva.

Thereupon, during the hush that fell over the company, the queen extended a welcome to all inhabitants of the realm, bidding them make merry at the great fiesta in Daly City.

Members of the court, with the queen and mayor leading the procession, then filed three times around the ball room. All formality was thrown aside as the contingent divided into a dance.

The ladies of the court, clad in bright silks and shimmering satins, were the following: Jennie Domenici, Rose Miraglia, Geraldine Menicucci, Mary Giusti and Elsie Morielaz.

Their gay garments were pleasingly set off by the evening black of their escorts.

Princes of the realm were Attilio Raeta, Louis Dematteis, Giacomo Firpo, William Regis and Guy Garagiulo.

TO CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY VIEWING PEACE

National Defense Forces Will Participate In Public Demonstration To Be Held

The glorification of peace will be the keynote of San Francisco's Armistice Day celebration on Thursday, November 11.

This was announced this week, by the general chairman and the executive chairman of the Mayor's Citizens Committee.

"Many persons seem to think that Armistice Day is a day dedicated to glorifying war," the statement said. "But such is not the case. It is a day dedicated to peace."

"No one wants war. No veteran who fought in the World War, the Spanish-American War, Civil War or any war wants to see this country again engage in armed conflict. We want no entangling alliances with foreign nations. We want peace."

"The veterans of San Francisco are to the forefront in this movement for peace and they have taken the leadership in making this the theme for the coming Armistice Day celebration."

While the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will participate actively in the Armistice Day program, Executive Chairman Marckley pointed out that this was not to be construed as a militaristic move.

"The Army, Navy and Marine Corps will take part as representative of the national defense forces of our government. 'We welcome them in our celebration.'"

Arrangements are being made for thousands of school children in the city's public schools to stage a colorful Armistice Day demonstration in the Civic Auditorium. Miss Estelle Carpenter, supervisor of music in the schools, has been appointed to supervise the exercises.

BRISBANE HOUSE IS CONSUMED BY MYSTERIOUS FIRE

Fireman Roy Edwards Is Overcome By Smoke As Home Of Resident Blazes

A spectacular early morning fire destroyed the home of Otto Petersen and injured five firemen, Monday of this week.

The fire, preceded by an explosion of unknown origin, swept through the structure so quickly that the house was completely ablaze before firemen were summoned.

Fire Marshal Terry questioned the owner and made a thorough investigation of the premises in an effort to ascertain the cause of the conflagration.

The roar of the explosion and fire awakened several neighbors, who turned in the alarm, bringing 22 volunteer firemen to the scene. The men connected the hose as rapidly as possible and poured tons of water into the building before bringing the blaze under control.

Three attempts were made to enter the building, but each time the firemen were driven back by the intense heat.

NO ACCIDENTS ON FINAL FIESTA DAY

When more than 72 units celebrated the inauguration of San Massimo Branch No. 49 into the Italian Catholic Federation with a super-gigantic parade, Sunday of this week—the event was news.

When—despite the congestion of crowds and the concentration of traffic such an event entails—no automobile accidents were recorded in Daly City on that memorable day—that, too, was "news."

The police force is to be commended for its expert supervision and control of cars and people on Mission street and San Jone avenue.

News Of Boy Scout Troop No. 141

The Waterdog Patrol has finished its flag and the Indian Patrol is working on theirs and will have it completed soon.

The Waterdogs had a candy sale recently and earned enough money to pay for their flag materials and had some cash left for other purposes. The boys of this patrol surprised the Girl Scout troop of our church last Saturday evening by presenting them with a set of flag stands which had been designed and constructed by the patrol members. On their way to the church the Scouts came upon a woman who was frantic because she had lost her little 2 year old girl. The Scouts lost no time in starting a search for the wandering child. She was apprehended on her way up the hill, near Mission street, and returned to her mother, who thanked the boys warmly for their fast work.

"Therefore, as members of this great organization, it is the duty of American citizens of Italian descent to treasure the legacy left by the Italy of the Renaissance, the Italy of Dante, Leonardo and Pirandella. It is their privilege to share that culture with the adopted country."

Mayor Paul G. Selmi, introduced by Master of Ceremonies Louis Dematteis, gave the occasion local significance when he attributed to the Inauguration Festival the creation of greater community spirit. He voiced the hope that other organizations would follow the precedent set by the I. C. F. Chapter in Daly City.

After the inauguration was solemnized and as twilight fell, brilliantly attired squads competed for honors—for beautiful trophies tendered by local civic bodies and business firms—on the turf covered parade ground at the school.

Results of the contest between visiting branches of other organizations were as follows:

every job. It is the duty of the inspector to collect this money, and turn it in to the City Treasury. His personal dividends are fees accrued on inspection of fixtures.

To the knowledge of members of the council, few collections have been made on permits by Riddell during his time in office.

In the session, Monday of this week, City Attorney D. P. Convery was instructed to investigate all the bonds posted by plumbers in Daly City. City Clerk Ross was told to have on hand at the caucus meeting a list of all building and alteration permits filled by him prior to March of 1936.

Asked by Councilman Cavagnaro if it were possible to collect on back permit, the city attorney advised the board that the action was sanctioned by law.

In the interim—until new building and plumbing ordinances are drawn up or until the old ones are amended—the chief of police will collect on all permits granted. The resolution effecting this change was made by Mayor Paul Selmi and unanimously adopted by the council.

Representatives of the Master Plumbers Association and of the local unit will be "on deck" when Riddell submits his report at the meeting next week. The association has officially condemned the installation of plumbing fixtures at the Villa Hospital. However, this system has been approved by the city plumbing inspector.

A protest hearing on the assessment of land on Mission and San Jose avenues—where curbs will be replaced, new sidewalks built and a lighting system constructed—will be held in the City Hall, December 3.

At that time objections of persons directly affected by the proposed plan will be considered by the council.

Will Battle For League Honors

Battling San Mateo on the home field, the Jefferson Indians make their fourth attack on the league ladder this afternoon.

San Mateo, a pre-season favorite has been topped twice this year and it at present on the bottom rung. A victory over the Indians would lift them out of the cellar, however, and drop the Indians back to where they were last year, on the bottom.

Without Balletto, the Indians are not as powerful as when they faced South City, but are still very much in the race for league honors.

Poisons And Rubies The Strange Combination Indulged By Noted Chemist

(By Earl Gendrich)

At the moment when the precious stones are being sought for by old-time miners, more precious poisons are being sought for by modern chemists. In the laboratory of a noted chemist, the tracing of poisons, his hobby, the making of precious gems.

Washington has its own candidate for honors in odd combinations of professions and hobbies in Professor G. Everett Marsh of the Institute of Criminal Science. His profession is the tracing of poisons. His hobby, the making of precious gems.

Did you know that science can and does make a ruby that is finer in color, harder in substance, more brilliant in refraction and of exactly the same constitution as nature's, at a cost that is so ridiculously low that nobody wants them? Dr. Marsh can make your ruby more perfect than those for which the sweating Burmese delve into the bowels of the earth.

All of the precious stones which belong to the sapphire family of gems can be so reproduced. Rubies are sapphires in a high degree of blushing. Other precious or semi-precious stones cannot be duplicated by man; they can only be imitated.

Diamonds have been reproduced, it is true, but they have been microscopic in size and not of any practical value.

When the ruby process became so general as to be commercially attempted, the ruby market dropped with a bang and then rose again until now it is at its old very precious normal. The person able to own either a ruby or a sapphire scorns to wear one "made by hand."

Dr. Marsh thinks the chief value of the synthetic stone is in its remarkable adaptability to the needs of the jewelry designer—he can make the stone fit into his design instead of having to fit the design to the stone.

But back to Dr. Marsh's profession. The professor has developed in his laboratory a new and reliable method whereby the poisons most commonly encountered in the crime

Notice Of Trustee's Sale

On the 2nd day of November, 1937, at the hour of 10 o'clock of said day, at the entrance of the San Mateo Courthouse, in Redwood City, County of San Mateo, State of California, the undersigned, TITLE INSURANCE AND GUARANTY COMPANY, a corporation, as Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash in lawful money of the United States of America, the following described real property situated in Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, and described as follows:

Said sale will be made to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by FRED FOPPIANO, a single man, as trustor, to TITLE INSURANCE AND GUARANTY COMPANY, a corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of HENRY A. COLEMAN, a single man, dated February 7, 1931, and recorded February 13, 1931, in the office of the Recorder of the County of San Mateo, State of California, in Volume 490 of Official Records, at Page 50.

field, the arsenics and cyanides, may be more quickly and surely discovered in the human system. Its value lies in speeding up the process of criminal investigation without sacrificing either accuracy or completeness.

Dr. Marsh says that poisoning as a method of criminal expression has died out proportionately to the increase of scientific invasion of the criminal field. So long as a poison seemed to offer the criminal a "safe" method of slaying, history shows a large number of such crimes.

Licenses for the production and handling of poisons have limited the possibility of their use to definite fields. Nowadays it is almost possible to determine the very store from which a poison has been purchased within a few hours, and in some cases within a few minutes, of the time the crime involving its use has been discovered. Another step in man's battle with anti-social forces has been taken by scientific research.

Married In Reno

Wedding bells rang out in Reno, Friday of last week, for Miss Alicia Fields of Riesel street and Victor Fellman of San Francisco.

While relatives were planning an elaborate wedding to take place in San Francisco within the next two weeks, the youthful pair slipped away to Reno to have the knot tied. Mr. and Mrs. Fellman returned home to break the news to their parents, and then left on a motor honeymoon trip to northern California.

Miss Fields was the popular dancing teacher for the Betty Mae Dance Studios in Daly City for the past three years.

CHURCH LEADERS SOUTH CITY WINS COMPLIMENTED OVER JEFF HIGH WITH BANQUET IN BIG CONTEST

Rev. John T. Scanlon Lauds
Indivisibility Of Italo Catholic Federation—Represented Archbishop Mitty

Final chapter in Daly City's most dazzling week-end to date was recorded when civic officials and grand officers of the Italian Catholic Federation convened at a banquet in Little Italy Hall, given last Sunday evening in honor of the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church.

Epitomizing the messages of all the speakers who had preceded him in a few select passages, Rev. John T. Scanlon, S. T. L., described the significance of the Federation in the following terms:

"You the members of this organization have enriched your lives and the lives of others socially, culturally and spiritually.

"Socially—because the word 'federation' itself is defined as a union of groups, a welding together of units.

"Culturally—because your nation has contributed the best in the arts to the countries of the western world.

"Spiritually—because our Church recognizes no barrier between nationality and nationality, no division between class and class."

Rev. Scanlon is San Francisco's archdiocesan director of the Italian Catholic Federation.

Master of ceremonies was Dominic Bazzanella, who presented Queen Margaret Della Selva with a beautiful wristwatch from the I. C. F.

"Finis" to the festival was marked, as it were, by a farewell dance in the Theater Social Hall.

LOCAL DEALER VIEWS NEW NASH

The world's first automobiles utilizing a conditioned air system for winter driving were previewed in San Francisco, October 20, by E. A. Ferretti, local dealer in Nash automobiles. The preview, staged especially for dealers and salesmen of this area, was held in connection with a nationwide series of announcement meetings, conducted throughout October by officials of the Nash Motors Division of Nash-Kelvinator Corporation.

Ferretti explained that Nash's new conditioned air system for winter driving is one that brings into the car, even though windows are closed, copious quantities of cleaned, warmed air, circulates it, ends all drafts, eliminates window and wind-

Local Team Encounters Plenty Of Wind And Much Hard Luck As They Lose

In the annual big game between Jefferson and South San Francisco, the South City Boilerbakers came out on the long end of a 18 to 0 score. Playing on the opposing team's field, the Indians hit plenty of wind and a lot of bad luck.

The first quarter saw most of the action in South City territory, but the second quarter was South City's breaks and they drove deep into Jefferson's territory, but lost the ball on downs. Jefferson then fumbled on their own 13-yard line. This proved the biggest break of the game. The Boilerbakers recovered and then threw a 20 yard pass into the end zone for the first score. The conversion failed and the score was 6-0.

Immediately following the kickoff after the touchdown it was Jefferson's ball, with Balletto kicking from his own 38-yard line. The ball was blocked, a South City man picked it up and ran for another touchdown, thus putting Jefferson in a deep hole by two disastrous incidents.

South City's kicker held the spotlight for the second half with terrific boots that kept the Indians in their own territory; yet the line held until the last four minutes of the game, but then a South City end run netted about eight yards and a touchdown. The conversion failed, and the score of 18 to 0 ended the game.

If there was a distinct edge in any department it was in kicking. With or without wind, South City's punter booted beautifully, not giving Jefferson much of a chance to get near the enemy goal line.

George Balletto, Jefferson's star fullback, received a broken collar bone during the contest, which also added to the Indians' despondency.

shield fogging and "enables you to drive in your shirt sleeves when it's zero outside."

Another of the outstanding features examined was the company's new "Sea-Legs" feature. This name, he explained, comes from the fact that the 1938 Nash cars utilize new skyliner type, double acting hydraulic shock absorbers, so mounted that they resemble most closely the straddling legs of a sailor who is bracing himself against the roll and pitch of the sea. Nash's "Sea-Legs," Ferretti learned, steady the cars on curves and smooth out "the pitch as well as the roll"—or bumps as well as side sway.

TANFORAN ATTRACTS MANY GOOD RUNNERS

By J. W. MARCHBANK

In a few days the fall meeting at Tanforan will be on its way. As in the spring, the session will be for twenty-five days. The opening comes on a Tuesday this year, November 16. Last year the start was made on a Thursday, as the fans undoubtedly recall. Experience shows Friday to be the best day for the opening of "hostilities" and it may be the beginning will come on that day next time.

Good horses and good riders have ruled at Tanforan for a long period and it looks as though tradition will be upheld at the fast approaching session. Every day word is received of the shipment of worth-while performers from the "big time." The clever pilots accompany the important strings.

When the "class" of horses and jockeys at Tanforan in the nineties and the early part of the present century, those at the course in the early twenties and more recently since the revival of the sport in 1930 is recalled it is easy enough to see the anticipations of the fans are naturally high.

Not all of the gallopers will be of the handicap kind, of course, but there will be plenty of that sort to go in the features Saturdays, Thanksgiving Day and at other times. One thing that is encouraging is the promise of a large number of medium grade runners for the events at one mile and more.

It has always been my opinion that the fans get twice the thrill from a race having its beginning on the front stretch that they get from one starting over on the back stretch, and consequently it has been my consistent endeavor to have more and more of the front stretch struggles. This season we are going back to events at exactly one mile and if the experiment turns out well will have plenty of the eight furlong encounters in the future.

The followers of the game certainly have a hankering for mile races and it is mainly for that reason we are bringing them back.

AMAZON LOSES IN HARD FRAY WITH OLYMPIANS

Consideration of Men As Inferior During Portrayal Of Comedy Sends Actress To Hospital

Ann Pendleton, who plays the part of Antiope, an Amazon princess, in "The Warrior's Husband" at the Alcazar this week, is just that, an Amazon, off the stage as well as on. Following the first night's performance the blond Miss Pendleton was taken to a hospital for attention for injuries her Amazonian vigor brought about in a scene with Theseus (Max West).

It is Antiope's part to consider all men inferior, physically and mentally minus and generally de trop; her end in life to subdue them. She succeeds in doing this for two acts, but in the third she grapples with the whole Olympian population and bests them. In doing so the other night she forgot Theseus in tackling Theseus and came out of the fray with painfully wrenched knuckles. Being a true Amazon, she refused to take time out for the following performance.

"The Warrior's Husband" will continue for another week at least. It is drawing excellent business and seems to be the type of comedy wanted by the public at the moment.

ORGANIZATION IS RESPONSIBLE FOR GAME INCREASE

Conservation Of Wild Life Is Main Mission Of California Association

A good many sportsmen who do not belong to any club or who do not belong to the Associated Sportsmen of California, Inc. are not aware of the fact that the above association and its member clubs are greatly responsible for the increase of game birds such as quail, pheasants, chukar, partridge, and several other species. As for game fish especially the striped bass, the Associated Sportsmen of California, Inc. and its member clubs have not been given credit enough for having stopped the netting of striped bass, a practice that was rapidly cleaning out this fine game fighting fish.

The fall of 1934 the big dance held at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco by the association was the first big affair where funds were received to carry on conservation work and from the hard work of members of the association. The Striped Bass bill was put over enabling some 75,000 people in central California to enjoy a wonderful sport.

October of last year another big dance was held in the Dreamland Auditorium and again the affair was a great success enabling the delegates to properly represent the association at Sacramento.

Now for the third Annual Big Game Dance to be held on November 20, at Scottish Rite Auditorium, Sutter and Van Ness. Every member and his family and friends should attend the greatest dance of all times. Big caravans of sportsmen and friends from all over Central California should head for San Francisco on big game night to attend the big game dance of the Associated Sportsmen. All proceeds go to the conservation fund.

Dick Austin of Martinez, the hustling chairman of the dance committee, ably assisted by Edward Moore, E. Parish, H. Douglas, C. Craig, C. Burkhardt, "Pop" Glenn, C. Lovelace, M. Smith, Mrs. E. Parrish, Mrs. E. Eklund, Mrs. Dwyer, and others, are all on the job to make this a great affair. The dance committee would like a good crowd attend the Big Game Dance.

served by the women of the parish.

Support of this affair will help pay the debt of Holy Angels Church and also guarantee the public a good time.

DRAMATIZE SOME EXCERPTS FROM FAMOUS TALES

Pupils Of Elementary Grades Assisted In Education By Means Of Radio

Education through radio, phonograph, motion pictures, lantern slides and well mounted pictures are the means which are stimulating and impressing the learning processes of the students in the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. A definite, well planned program whereby every class in the building follows a series of programs especially fitted to its needs and integrated in one or more ways with the activities in the room is enjoyed. The opportunity group and fifth grade enjoy the weekly historical and geographical dramatization of interest in California history presented over Station KLX by the Alameda Schools.

The characters in literature of famous books of a decade or more ago have become a vital and alive spectacle to students in the seventh and eighth grade as they listen to the dramatization of excerpts from such famous stories as "House of Seven Gables," "Moby Dick," "Treasure Island," "The White Company" and others. Preceding this broadcast, also presented by the Alameda schools a student in the class reports on the book from which an excerpt is to be broadcast, thus arousing a keener interest in literary appreciation.

Other groups in the school enjoy radio travelogues of historical and geographical natures which integrate with the work being done in the social science classes. To further fit the seventh and eighth grade for the transition from elementary to high school, vocational guidance programs are intensively listened to with a follow up questionnaire which awakens these students to the "open doors" in vocational possibilities which await them.

Bi-monthly motion pictures on industries, natural resources, imports, exports, customs, and habits of foreign peoples and scenes are always awaited anxiously by the classes, as well as the lantern slides and well mounted pictures which are in daily

NEEDY MUST NOT BE GIVEN UP FOR BUDGET

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

It is a wonder how many of the host of "situationists" who are ever ready to attack President Roosevelt on the score of his "herculean" efforts to bring order out of chaos in our country know that the total government debt was only 17 per cent of the national wealth last year, as compared with 48 per cent in the United Kingdom and 41 per cent in France.

The question of the national indebtedness has been under study by a committee of the Twentieth Century Fund for several years. An increase in the debt structure came as a natural result of modern conditions, it was found, and far from national bankruptcy in the not-distant future, it is predicted the indebtedness can be cut down gradually without disaster.

The outstanding debt of the government as of June 30, this year, was 35 billion dollars. Of this amount, 18.8 billion has been accumulated since June 30, 1920. The balance is largely the unretired portion of the debt incurred in the World War.

The committee is in agreement with the President that "nothing except dire emergency should be allowed to interfere with the actual balancing of the budget in the fiscal year 1938."

In 1939 and for ten years thereafter, it is maintained, provision should be made by the government for the retirement of one billion dollars of indebtedness a year.

One of the members of the committee has the main point on the head by expressing the opinion that the budget should be balanced—not by decreasing government expenditures necessary to promote the health and welfare of the people, but rather by increasing government revenues.

1938 MODEL IS NOW ON DISPLAY

Car With More Refinement And Greater Power Is Offered Public

Featuring an impressive array of 57 new improvements, the 1938 line of Chrysler motor cars is now on display at the showrooms of the Mission Auto Co., Chrysler-Plymouth dealer here.

Reports from dealers throughout northern California indicate that at no time in the 14-year history of Walter P. Chrysler has so much enthusiasm prevailed among motorists who have viewed the new models. The 1938 Chrysler line comprises the new low-priced Royal, its companion car, the luxurious new Chrysler Imperial, and the Chrysler Custom Imperial.

All 1938 models are longer, sleeker in appearance and more powerful. The wheel base of the Chrysler Royal has been increased from 116 inches to 119 inches. Horse power also has been increased to give new standards of performance and a greater degree of flashing acceleration for which Chrysler has always been famous. The new Chrysler Imperial has a wheel base of 125 inches, an increase of four inches over that of last year. Horsepower also has been augmented.

Scores of new engineering features and refinements are to be found in both the Royal and Imperial. Brakes are larger and more powerful. Riding quality has been further improved through additional airplane type hydraulic shock absorbers, front and rear sway eliminators and a new type of springing. Steering gears on the new Chrysler have been effectively cushioned from the frame with live rubber, eliminating road shock and vibration from the steering wheel.

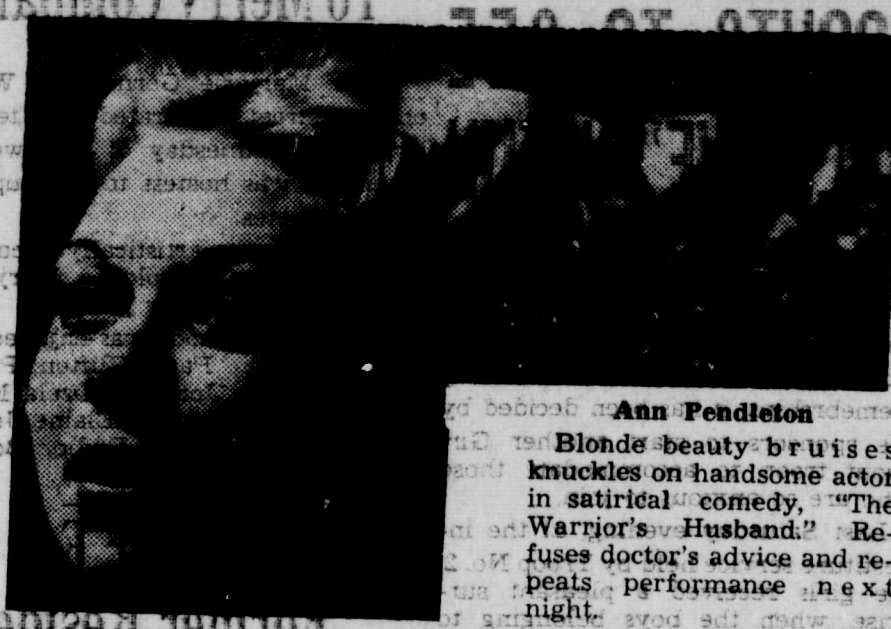

Exteriors of the two cars are decidedly smart in design without being extreme. The radiator grilles are cast metal. Headlamps are partially recessed into the inside slope of the front fender, affording a refreshing front end appearance.

The depth of the windshield has been lowered to give greater road visibility. Dual windshield wipers placed at the bottom of the windshield afford perfect vision in rainy weather.

The cubic capacity of the trunk on all touring sedan models in the new Chrysler line has been greatly increased by mounting the spare tire vertically in a corner of the trunk. Interiors of the trunks have been carpeted, sides and bottom, to prevent luggage damage.

Interiors of the new models are unusually rich in appointments. All fittings are of burnished chrome hardware and instrument panels are exceptionally beautiful with bright and engine-tooled chrome facings.

Commenting on the 1938 line, the manager of the Mission Auto Co., said: "Daly City motorists have shown a greater degree of interest in the new Chrysler than has been manifested at any time in my experience as a dealer. In my opinion, we are on the threshold of another great year for Chrysler. Nationally, sales of last year's Chryslers were practically double those of the preceding model and I anticipate again showing a substantial increase next year."

The manager of the Mission Auto Co., stated, virtually all models of the new Chrysler and the new Plymouth were available for immediate delivery.
